

Every month, Hynes students with a Hancock Whitney Bank account have an opportunity to make a deposit towards their personal financial literacy skills. On a designated Wednesday of each month, Hancock Whitney Bank visits Hynes Charter School to allow students to grow their financial skills by assisting students while they fill out deposit slips, and deposit money to their personal savings accounts. In addition to developing financial skills, students have an opportunity to interact with professionals who deal with finances on a daily basis. Students can ask questions and get immediate feedback on savings advice, math assistance, banking career advice, and professional communication. We are so fortunate to have this opportunity for our students!
